Retired LAPD Detective Charged in Child Porn Case

A retired Los Angeles Police Department detective is scheduled to be arraigned today on child pornography charges, the Los Angeles County District Attorney's Office announced.

Charles Daniel Henderson (dob 8/9/45) is expected to appear in Department 30 of the Foltz Criminal Justice Center. He was charged last month with two counts of distribution of child pornography and one count of possession of child pornography in case BA433612.

Henderson, who worked at LAPD for roughly 20 years, is accused of uploading child pornography in May 2014. A search warrant served in October at Henderson's home in Downey turned up more than 600 images of child or youth pornography.

Prosecutors are recommending bail be set at $80,000. If convicted as charged, Henderson faces up to six years, four months in state prison.

The case remains under investigation by the Downey Police Department.
